Better Days, served.

How Prohub Creative Solutions will turn Cibus Musica's Abuja edition into the December night the city talks about first — and buys tickets for early.

PROPOSED VISUAL DIRECTION

01 — THE OPPORTUNITY

Cibus Musica already owns an idea no other Abuja concert has: music and food on the same plate.

33

days until Better Days on Saturday 5 December — the first weekend of Abuja's December season.

editions this year — Calabar (Apr), Ikom "Chop Life" (Oct), Abuja (Dec). A touring brand, not a one-off party.

headliner confirmed — SoundBoi BME — plus a co-host audience through The Believers Music Concert.

pillars in the logo itself — Music · Food · Games · Good Vibes. The product is an experience, not a stage.

The opportunity: stop promoting each edition as a new flyer, and start building one festival brand whose December edition sells on desire, proof and urgency.

02 — CURRENT BRAND AUDIT

What the audience sees today.

A · Calabar grid. Coherent orange system and smart formats (ticket how-to, countdown) — but a texture-heavy look that doesn't travel.

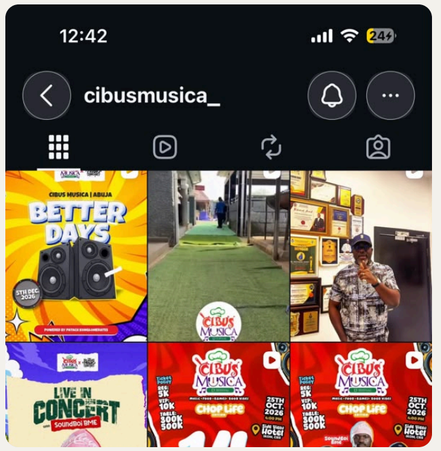

B · Chop Life, Ikom. Complete info, strong line-up — but ~12 elements compete at equal volume; no clear first read.

C · Better Days teaser. Fresh colour, but illustrated figures read as generic AI art; no food, no venue, no price, no "why".

D · SoundBoi announce. Best asset in the set — a real portrait. Torn-paper collage is a category cliché; venue and tickets missing.

E · Abuja grid. Three visual languages in nine tiles (orange, red, purple cartoon). The brand restarts every edition.

03 — WHAT NEEDS TO CHANGE

Good instincts, no system.

KEEP

— The name: Cibus (food) + Musica (music) is a genuinely ownable idea
— Chef-hat logo with heritage colours
— Conversion posts: 5-step ticket guide, countdowns
— Local food conversation (“favourite Calabar meal”)
— Sharp copy: “Because being regular is boring.”
— Real artist photography

FIX

— A different visual language every edition
— 4–6 display typefaces per flyer, no hierarchy
— Abuja posts missing venue, time, price and link
— Logo pasted in white boxes on every design
— Inconsistent handle (@cibusmusica / _) and URL (.com / .com.ng)
— Ambiguous crossed-out prices

RETIRE

— AI-style cartoon illustration as the key visual — Torn paper + speaker clip-art + sticker collage
— Stock filler (“Happy New Week” laptop man)
— Reposting identical flyers in the grid

MISSING

— Food: the differentiator, absent from Abuja creative
— Proof: Ikom happened 8 days ago — no recap yet
— A conversion path: landing page, price steps, deadlines
— Group selling: tables and squads
— Partner amplification: artist, co-host, vendors

04 — STRATEGIC DIAGNOSIS

The problem isn’t the design. It’s that every edition starts from zero.

Each flyer is judged alone, so brand equity, audience memory and buying intent never compound. In December, when every weekend in Abuja is fighting for the same people, that is expensive.

01 · Recognition

No system

Nothing carries from Calabar to Ikom to Abuja, so followers don’t recognise a new edition in the feed.

02 · Desire

Selling a flyer, not a night

Posts announce facts; few show what it feels like to be there — the food, the crowd, the people.

03 · Conversion

No path to purchase

Abuja creative lacks venue, price and a single link. Interest has nowhere to go.

05 — OUR STRATEGIC APPROACH

Position Better Days as the December concert where the food is part of the line-up.

POSITIONING

For Abuja's 20–38 social crowd planning their first December night out, Better Days is the concert that serves the whole evening — live music, real food, games and your people — so you never have to choose between "going out to eat" and "going out to dance".

Phase 1 · 09–15 Nov

Serve

Relaunch under one identity. Announce the headliner. Sell the menu.

Phase 2 · 16–22 Nov

Prove

Recaps, UGC, vendor reveals, venue drop. Make it feel inevitable.

Phase 3 · 23–29 Nov

Order

Month-end pay-day push: tables, squads, price-step deadline.

Phase 4 · 30 Nov–05 Dec

Last orders

Scarcity, running order, live coverage on the night, recap after.

MEASURED AS REACH → SAVES & SHARES → LINK TAPS & WHATSAPP OPT-INS → TICKETS SOLD → CHECK-INS ON THE NIGHT

06 — WHO WE'RE SELLING TO

Five audiences, one night.

SEGMENT	WHO	WHAT THEY WANT	OUR MESSAGE	WHERE WE REACH THEM
The Plan-Makers	24–34, young professionals; organise the group's night	A safe, well-run, photogenic night worth the money	"Book the table. Be the hero of the group chat."	Instagram, WhatsApp, X
The Fans	18–30, follow SoundBoi BME and Believers acts	To see the artist live and post it	"Order Nº 01: SoundBoi BME, live."	TikTok, Instagram, artist channels
The Foodies	Abuja food-scene followers	Discover new kitchens in one place	"Abuja's favourite kitchens, one ground."	Food creators, TikTok, IG
The Community	The Believers Music Concert audience	Their scene, their people	"Our night, served bigger."	Co-host channels, WhatsApp groups
Table & brand hosts	Groups, corporates, celebrants	Hosting, visibility, a reserved space	"A table for the friends who move as one."	Direct sales, DMs, WhatsApp Business

07 — CREATIVE DIRECTION

Better Days are served.

The campaign speaks the language of a kitchen. It comes straight from the brand's own name, so no competitor can copy it without looking like Cibus Musica — and every piece of vocabulary doubles as a call to action.

1 × BETTER DAY .. 05.12
REFUND .. BAD DAYS

The plate-record (music on a dinner plate), halftone duotone portraits, menu leaders, the receipt and the rubber stamp.

Photography. Direct-flash, documentary: steam, hands, plates, faces mid-laugh. Graded warm (pepper) into violet shadows. No stock, no staged smiles.

Artists. Real press photos, cut out and treated as halftone duotone — one look for every name on the bill, whatever the source quality.

Motion. Records spin up, receipts print line by line, stamps slam on the beat, menu leaders draw across. 6–15s loops cut to music.

09 — MAIN EVENT FLYER · 1080 × 1350

One image Abuja remembers.

A place setting where the plate is a record. Read from three metres away; understood in under two seconds.

01 The promise — "Better Days are served." Headline first, emotion before facts.

02 The symbol — food × music in one object. Becomes the countdown, the favicon, the merch.

03 The menu — all four pillars, set as a menu, so the experience is sold, not just the act.

04 The order — date, city, one URL. Venue slot updates on reveal day without a redesign.

10 — ADDITIONAL CREATIVE DIRECTIONS

Same idea, three moods.

Recommended · "The Place Setting." Iconic, night-time, premium.

Alt A · "The Order Docket." Witty, receipt-led — "Refund: all of 2026's bad days." Strong for shares.

Alt B · "2026 Owes You One." Editorial daylight version; the plate rises like a sun.

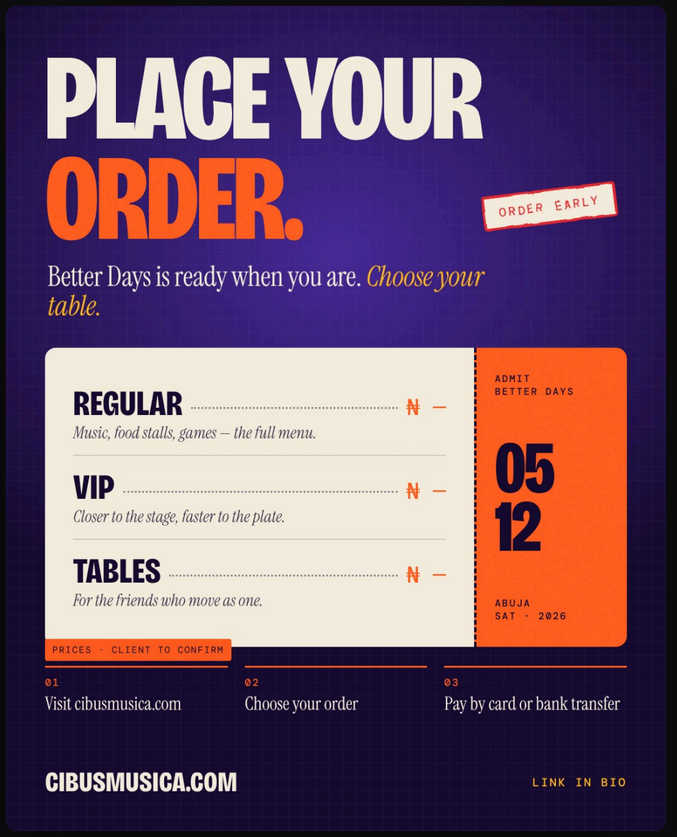

11 — ARTIST, EXPERIENCE & TICKET CREATIVE

Artist · "Now Serving Nº 01." A repeatable announcement format: every new name is the next order out of the kitchen.

Experience · "What's on the menu." Carousel cover; one course per slide. Sells the night beyond the headliner.

Tickets · "Place your order." Tiers as menu items, three buying steps, one URL. Prices pending client confirmation.

14 — HOW IT LIVES ON SOCIAL

A feed that finally looks like one brand.

Night and paper alternate to create rhythm in the grid; every tile is recognisable at thumbnail size.

STORY · POLL

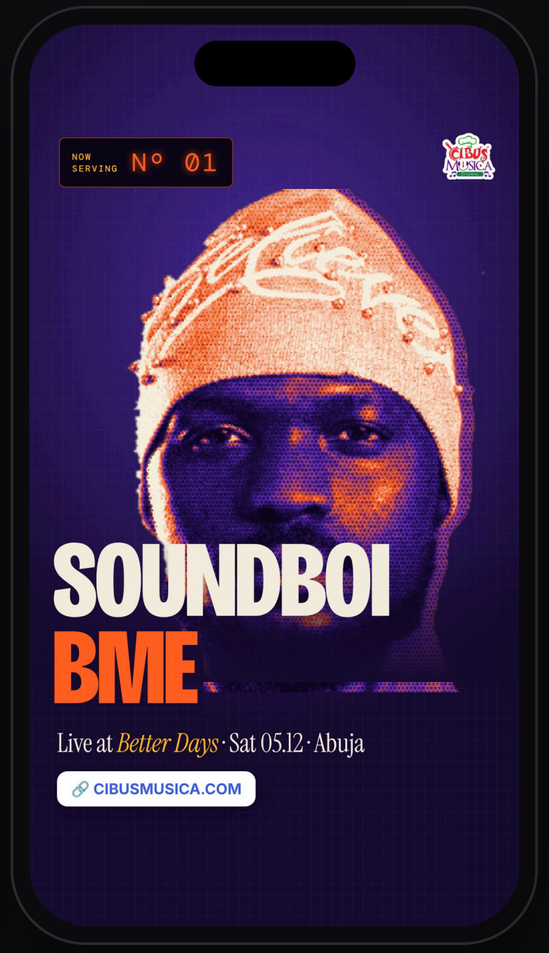

FEED · COLLAB POST

15 — INSTAGRAM STORY SYSTEM · 1080 × 1920

Pick your plate. Poll voters become a retargeting audience.

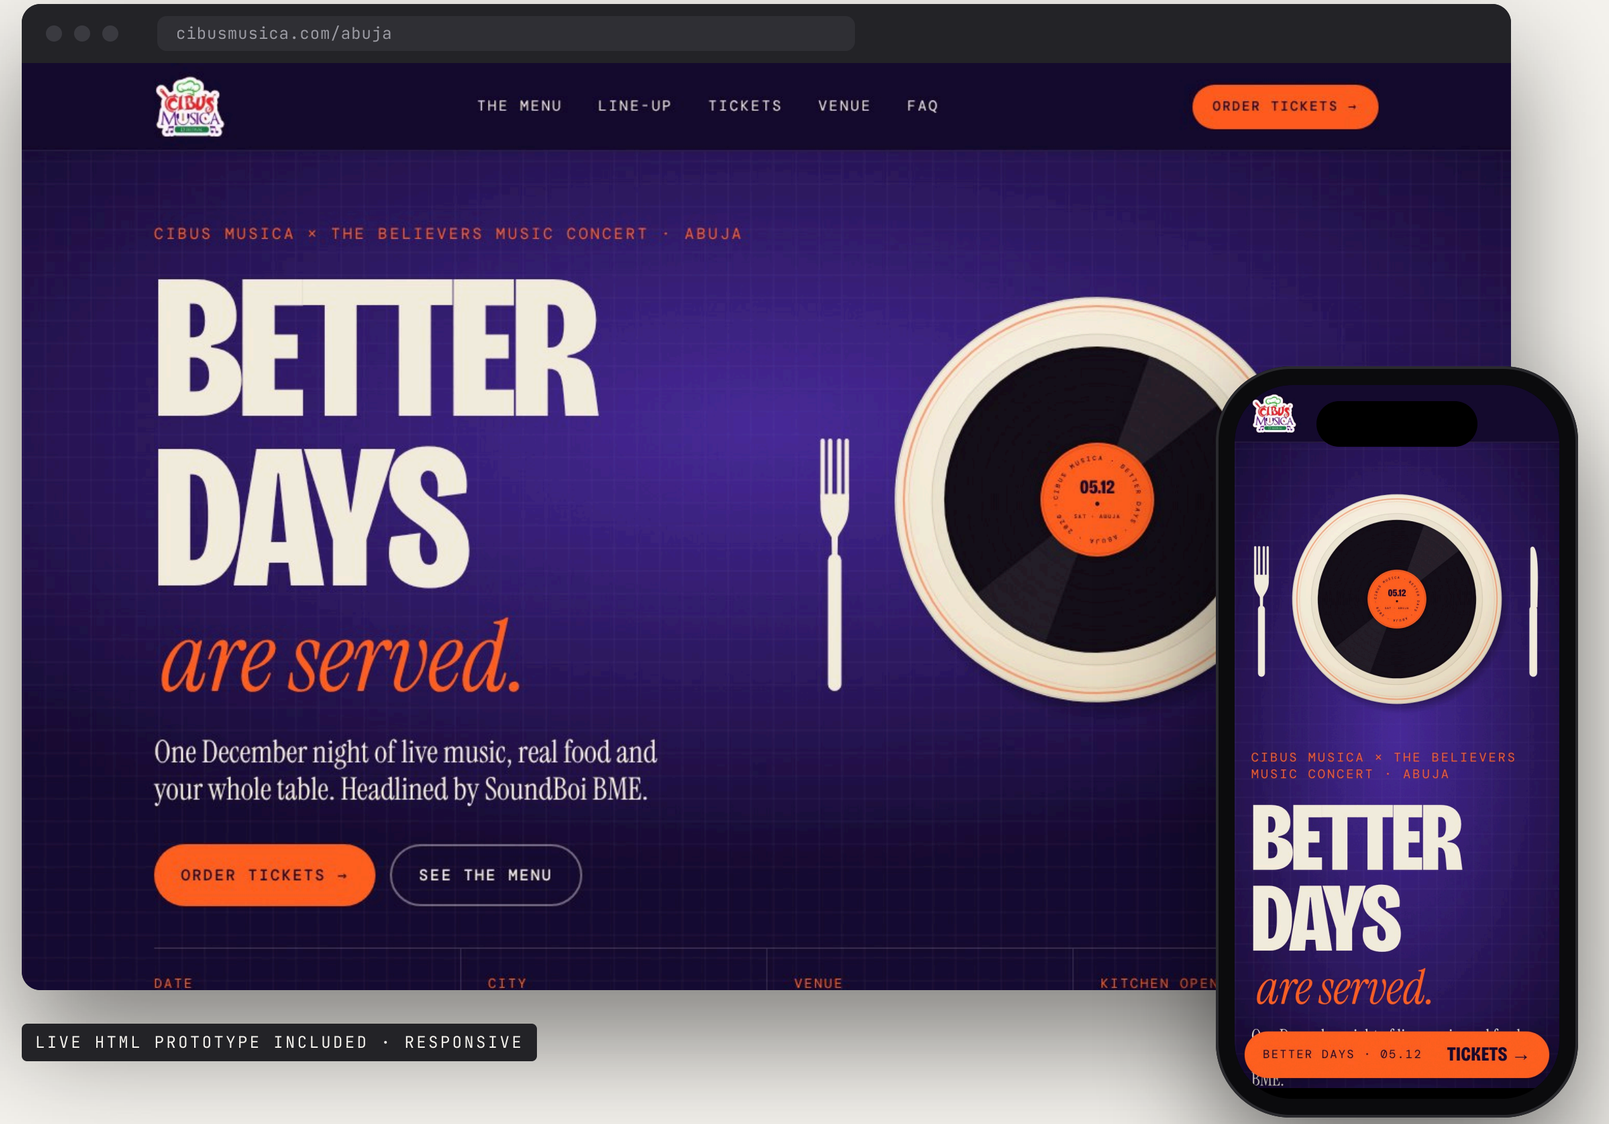

Place your order. The ticket as an object; one tap to buy.

16 — WEBSITE EXPERIENCE

A landing page built to sell tickets.

Recommendation: a dedicated event page at cibusmusica.com/abuja — not a new site. Fast, mobile-first, with one job: get a visitor from curiosity to checkout.

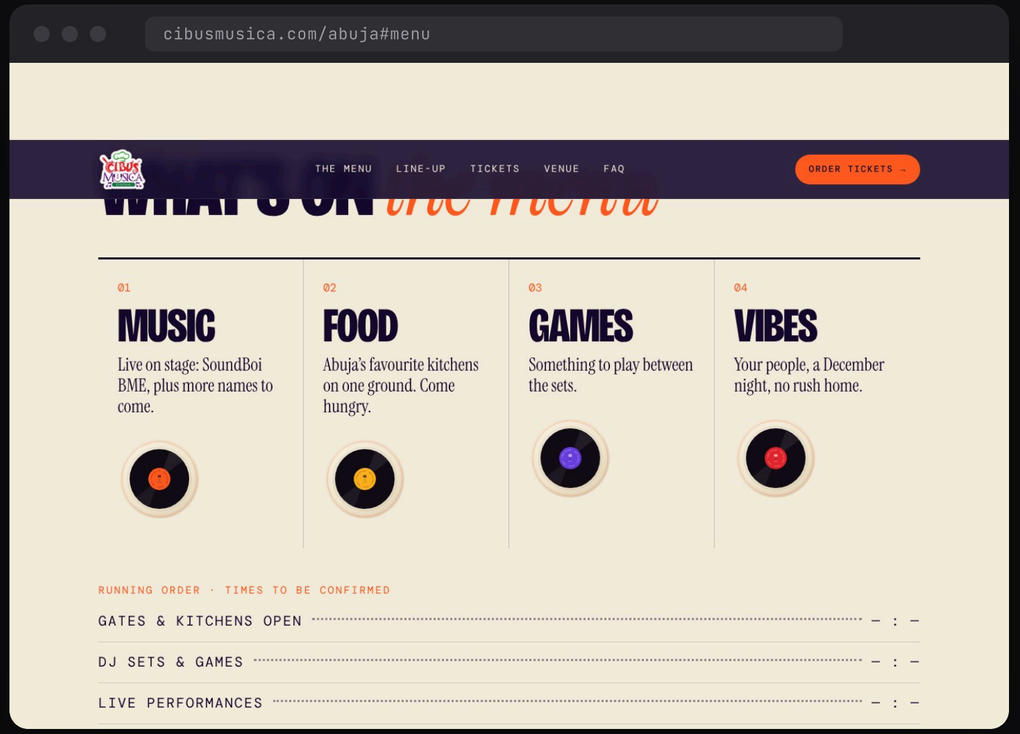

01 Hero: promise, date, city, Order button
02 Live countdown + key facts
03 Line-up: “Now serving”
04 The menu: experience + running order
05 Tickets: tiers, benefits, pay by card/transfer
06 Venue + WhatsApp alerts
07 FAQ · socials · partners

LIVE HTML PROTOTYPE INCLUDED · RESPONSIVE

16 — TICKET PURCHASE & EXPERIENCE SECTIONS

Order in 3 taps

Tier → quantity → pay (card or transfer) on the client's ticketing provider.

Sticky order bar

On mobile, "Tickets →" follows the thumb on every scroll.

Every visit tracked

Meta Pixel, TikTok Pixel, UTMs and creator codes so we know which post sold which ticket.

Reusable

Template rolls to the next edition — Calabar 2027 is a content swap, not a rebuild.

17 — DIGITAL MARKETING STRATEGY

Reach, then convert.

CHANNEL	ROLE	WHAT WE RUN	MEASURED BY
Instagram	Discovery + proof	Key visual, Reels, Collab posts with artists & vendors, stories with link and countdown stickers	Reach, saves, shares, link taps
TikTok	Reach	Food POVs, vox-pops, “group chat planning” trend, Spark Ads on best organic	Views, completion, profile visits
WhatsApp	Conversion	Broadcast list, Status drops, “table captain” group orders, venue alerts	Opt-ins, clicks, orders
Paid Meta	Scale + retarget	Abuja geo-targeting, 20–38. Video reach → retarget engagers and site visitors with ticket ads	Cost per ticket (pixel)
Creators	Trust	Abuja food & nightlife micro-creators (10k–100k), each with a trackable code; artist + co-host reposts	Sales per code
Vendors & partners	Free reach	Every vendor and sponsor gets a branded “We’re on the menu” asset pack to post	Tagged reach, code sales

Targets (reach, cost per ticket, sell-through by date) are set with the client once capacity, inventory and media budget are confirmed. We report on tickets — not likes.

18 — CONVERSION & FOMO MECHANICS

Give people a reason to buy today, not on the day.

Price steps

Published deadlines (“Early orders close [date]”) on every ticket post. Dates set by client.

Kitchen closed

Stamp each sold-out tier publicly — scarcity people can see.

Table captains

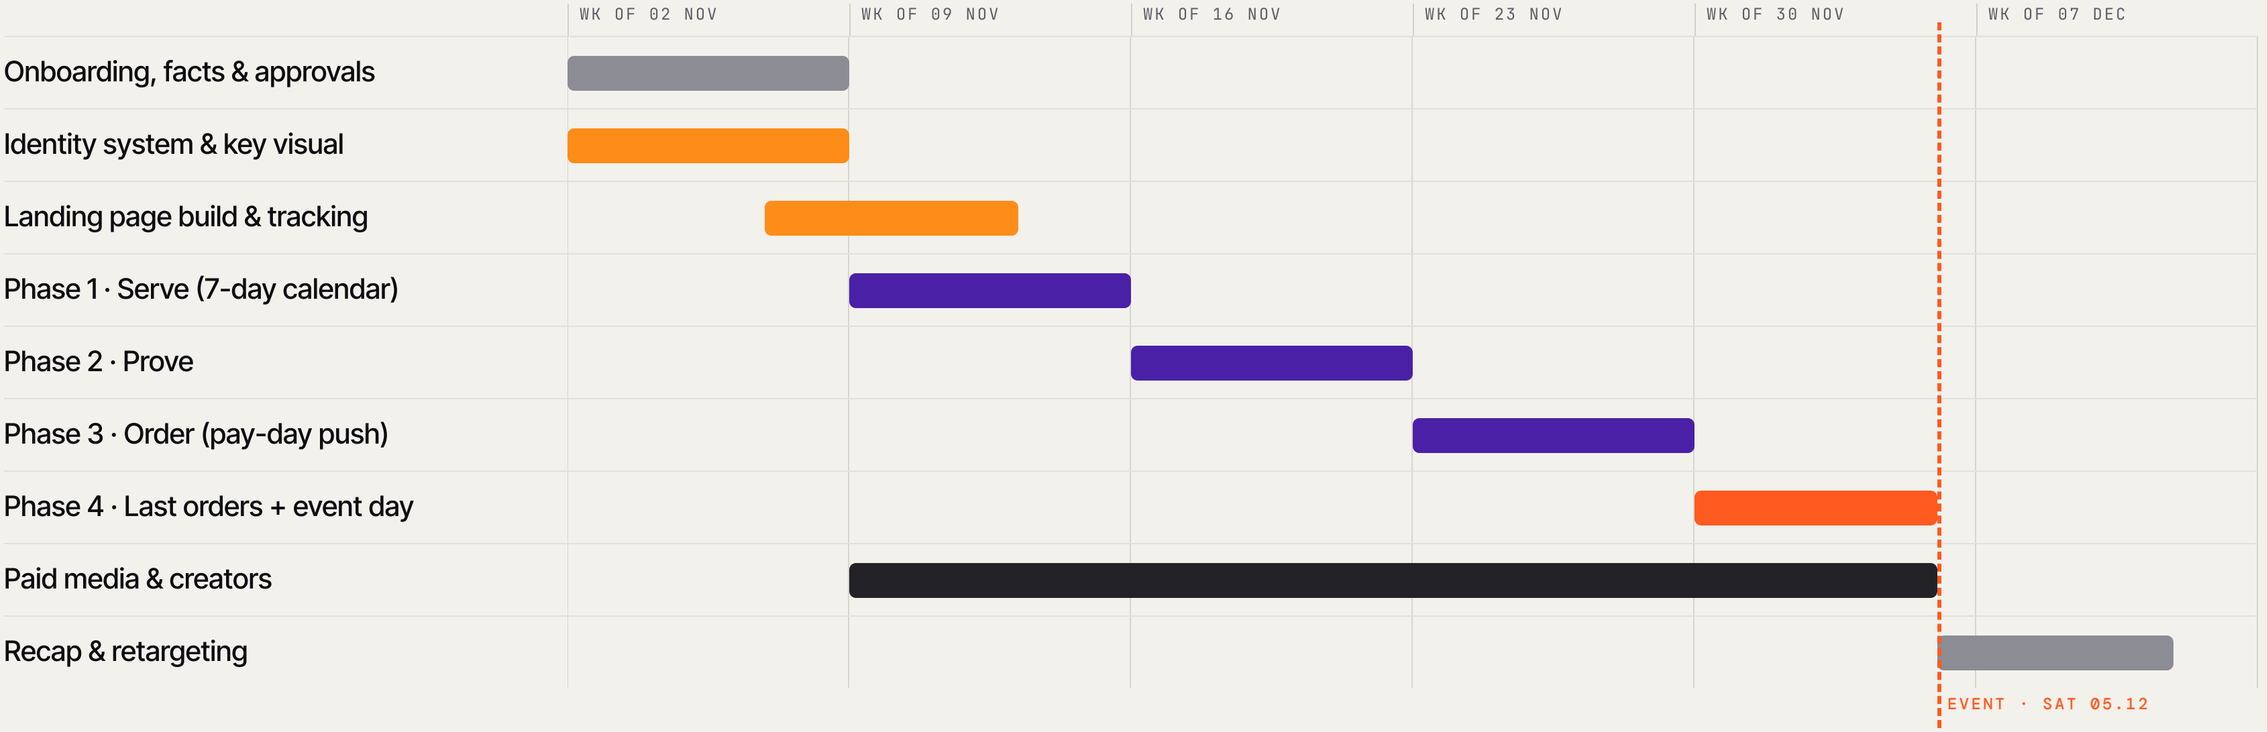

One person orders for the group; we give them the share assets to round up the squad.

Pay-day window

Heaviest ticket push 25–30 Nov, as end-of-month salaries land.

19 — EXECUTION PLAN · 33 DAYS

From yes to sold out.
